Q2. What is the mileage of the level crossing?

TAKING EXTREME CARE cross over the level crossing. Continue up the track, passing through Caddow Wood. Pass green Anglian Water kiosk on right and in 50m turn left through second gate on wide grassy bridleway (ignore first gate into Caddow Wood Yard). As the grassy track descends it becomes gravel and then tarmac. Continue to follow this to reach North Leverton Windmill. N.B. This is now a fully working windmill and can be viewed on Saturdays at 10am.

Q3. What year was the windmill built?

Leave the windmill and continue on tarmac track to the main road. Turn left and pass under the railway bridge and into the village North Leverton. Q4. What year is on the stone block before the bridge?

Go over bridge and bear left around church to gravel track. Turn right and continue onto tarmac road between houses passing Fingle House and onto dirt track. Ahead on narrow enclosed path with stream on right to kissing gate, turn left to further kissing gate in corner. Ahead to cross a bridge and 3 kissing gates close together, then straight on with distant cooling towers directly in front of you, to eventually turn right, following the yellow waymarker round field to gate in hedge to road. Cross over road and turn left to display board.

Q5. When was Edward Fenton born?

Return along the road and in 10m turn left through the kissing gate on Trent Valley Way (not signposted) next to wooden fence.
